PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

World Bank	Washington, DC
Young Professional – Education and Skills Global Practice for Europe and Central Asia	September 2025–Present

- Beginning a rotation with the Distributional Impact of Policies team in Eastern and Southern Africa, with a work program focused on refugee-hosting areas and local development in Uganda and statistical capacity strengthening in Burundi.
- Leading and contributing to analytical work on education and skills policy in Europe and Central Asia, including early childhood education, education finance, foundational learning, refugee education, and AI-enabled learning tools.
- Designing large-scale randomized evaluations in Uzbekistan and Kosovo, including a SIEF-supported study of an AI-enabled Grade 5 mathematics platform and an early childhood education voucher program, with outcomes focused on learning, childcare access, child development, implementation, and women’s labor market participation.
- Co-leading a World Bank study in Türkiye and Poland on how refugee households value education and skills programs, using discrete choice experiments to inform more effective policies for integration, self-reliance, and voluntary return.
- Leading an implementation completion review of a World Bank education project in Armenia, assessing results and lessons from investments in preschool access, school infrastructure, education data systems, curriculum reform, STEM resources, and higher education.

NewGlobe	Washington, DC/Cambridge, MA
Vice President of Research, Measurement & Evaluation (RME)	March 2022–August 2025

- Led the global Research, Measurement & Evaluation and Data Analytics teams with 15 staff across four countries while developing internal systems, training materials, and data infrastructure to scale research operations and enhance program execution across all government partnerships.
- Directed the design and implementation of experimental, quasi-experimental, and descriptive studies, embedding a robust feedback loop between research and program design to drive evidence-based improvements in participation, enrollment, and learning for over 1.8 million students across 5,000 schools.
- Deepened existing and prospective government partnerships through policymaker workshops and tailored research.

Director of Data Analytics	November 2021–March 2022
-----------------------------------	---------------------------------

- Founded and led the Data Analytics team that developed systems to analyze EMIS and assessment data, producing actionable reports and narratives that informed strategic audits, guided program design, and strengthened academic and operational strategies in public and private schools across seven low- and middle-income countries.

McKinsey & Company	San Jose, Costa Rica
Junior Research Analyst, Latin America Public Sector Hub	June 2016–June 2017

- Conducted quantitative and qualitative research on macroeconomics, financial inclusion, economic development, and education across Latin America, producing client-ready reports that clearly communicated complex analyses and actionable policy recommendations.

SELECTED CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

Africa Fellows for Education Program	February–August 2025
---	-----------------------------

- Provided research mentorship to Africa Fellows in Education, including reviewing academic paper drafts for journal submission and leading a two-day workshop in early 2025 on academic and policy writing as part of the program’s capacity-building efforts.

Inter-American Development Bank	August 2024–March 2025

- Drafted a technical concept note on AI in education for Latin America and the Caribbean, including policy recommendations based on literature review, analysis of applications, and expert consultations.

EdTech Hub	September 2024–August 2025
-------------------	-----------------------------------

- Reviewed a technical framework for evaluating cost-effectiveness across education portfolios, including on the choice of outcome metrics and reviewing articles on digital personalized interventions.

Uwezo Uganda

March 2023–March 2024

- Provided technical assistance on data analysis and interpretation to support Uwezo Uganda’s research initiatives. Authored policy briefs on gender, mother tongue instruction, and early childhood education.

World Bank

October 2021–March 2022

- Supported the design of a quasi-experimental study to evaluate curriculum reform in STEM subjects in Armenia through a short-term consultancy.

World Bank

February–July 2021

- Led the design, implementation, and data collection of a randomized controlled trial (RCT) in Kenya, evaluating various parental support interventions delivered via interactive voice recordings, through a short-term consultancy.

Amsterdam Institute for Global Health & Development (AIGHD)

February 2021–April 2022

- Reviewed and analyzed the literature on results-based financing schemes in education, contributing to a report for the World Bank.
- Performed analyses for a quasi-experimental study on the impact of an agricultural intervention on farm productivity and food security in Kenya.

RISE Programme

July–December 2020

- Drafted and authored a peer-reviewed publication on learning inequality measures in low- and middle-income countries.
